I am a Drupal Developer, Software Architect, and consultant based in Heredia with 19+ years of experience delivering scalable and reliable digital solutions. Throughout my career, I have developed and architected systems for more than 40 websites across diverse industries. My expertise spans Drupal development, technical architecture, multi-technology integration, and end-to-end project execution. I am experienced in mentoring and coaching developers, ensuring strong coding practices and effective teamwork. I am comfortable working as a developer, architect, technical lead, or project manager depending on project needs. I focus on building robust, maintainable, and secure solutions that align with business goals. With a passion for continuous learning, I bring depth, versatility, and leadership to every project I take on.
