PROJECT DETAILS

• Personalized Home Screen Development for Foodpanda and Foodora

Project Description: Developed a dynamic, server-driven homescreen service in Go for Foodpanda and Foodora apps, impacting users across 21 countries. This project transformed static homescreens into dynamic, personalized interfaces, adaptable as per market needs through an internal configuration portal, eliminating the need for new app releases.
Responsibilities: Engineered a backend infrastructure for real-time customization and content management. Integrated content analytics for A/B testing and feature experiment evaluations. Participated in the on-call process, ensuring system performance and issue resolution.
Technologies: Golang, AWS, SQL, CI/CD, Kubernetes, DataDog
Industry: Ecommerce

• Network Visibility Module (NVM) for Cisco AnyConnect

Project Description: Implemented a backend system for Cisco AnyConnect's Network Visibility Module (NVM), focusing on big data ingestion and query functionalities. NVM collects extensive network telemetry from AnyConnect NVM clients and stores it for insightful querying.
Responsibilities: Developed a GRPC server application for data collection and storage. Engineered a Python-based API for efficient data querying, deployed on AWS Lambda. Collaborated with cross-functional teams for system integration within the Cisco AnyConnect ecosystem.
Technologies: Golang, Python, GRPC, AWS Lambda, AWS Athena, AWS S3, Docker, Kubernetes, CI/CD
Industry: Networking
